SYSTEM REQUIREMENTS FOR PROPER DST OPERATION

To avoid possible issues with any daylight savings time (“DST”) changes, your ISS45 system needs to meet the following requirements:

- 1) ISS45 V7: Version 7.1.3.0-060 or higher
- 2) ISS45 V8: Version 8.1.5.0-050 or higher
- 3) The “Automatically adjust clock for daylight saving changes” must be checked
- 4) Operating System
 - A) XP Pro SP1 and Windows 2003 Server with KB928388 installed
 - B) XP Pro SP2/SP3 and Windows 2003 Server SP1/SP2 with KB942763 installed

If your ISS45 system does not meet the requirements listed above do not check the “Automatically adjust clock for daylight saving changes” option.

If you must reload a system’s operating system software you must remember to perform the daylight savings changes again.

DST START AND END DATES

In August of 2005, the United States Congress passed the Energy Policy Act. The Energy Policy Act changed the start and end dates of daylight saving time.

Year	Begin	End
2006	April 2	October 29
* 2007	March 11	November 4
2008	March 9	November 2
2009	March 8	November 1
2010	March 14	November 7
2011	March 13	November 6
2012	March 11	November 4
2013	March 10	November 3
2014	March 9	November 2
2015	March 8	November 1

* New law went into effect.

MICROSOFT DST FIX

To check you systems for the “daylight savings fix”:

- Search the C:\WINDOWS directory for either KB928388.LOG or KB942763.LOG. If either of these log files exists on your system then the proper Daylight Savings fix has been installed.
- If you do not find one or the other of these log files on your system, you must install the correct Microsoft Knowledge Base fix as soon as possible.
 - Download the Microsoft Knowledge Base fix from the StoreNext Dealer Support Web site (or from inside the Web site, click on Support then click on Tools and Utilities).
KB928388 will install on XP Pro SP1 and Windows 2003 Server
KB942763 will install on XP Pro SP2/SP3 and Windows 2003 Server SP1/SP2
