StoreNext Business Council Election Results!

July 24, 2003

The Dealers have spoken!

Congratulations to the newly-elected Principals of the Dealer Business Council election. Nominations took place in June and voting for the five members and two alternates was completed last week. The 2003/2004 Council members are, in alphabetical order:

George Brady

David Fuller

Rudy Long

Gary Pollastro

Terry Woods

Two alternates were also elected. Names of alternates will be announced upon a requirement for an alternate to serve.

StoreNext thanks the many Dealers who volunteered or were nominated to serve on the Council. The outstanding turnout promises an enthusiastic start – and a real chance for StoreNext and Dealers to work together effectively to realize the tremendous business opportunity we have. The many different backgrounds, dealership sizes and geographic areas represented by the new Council provides a fortunate variety that will serve to understand and represent the many facets of the questions and decisions we will have before us.

The purpose of the StoreNext Business Council is to advance business success for all StoreNext Dealers and StoreNext. Council meetings will focus on programs, futures, relationships, third parties, industry issues and trends – individual Dealer issues and product-specific enhancement priorities will continue to be managed through everyday Dealer/StoreNext account relationships.

StoreNext is planning the location and date of the initial Council meeting, which will take place in October. A March/October schedule for the two annual meetings will minimize conflicts with events such as MarkeTechnics, NGA, FMI, FDRSG and ICRDA/SDA while providing the option of possible co-scheduling with Centurion Club, now regularly scheduled for March.

In keeping with the Council charter, Council members will determine the primary agenda and topics to be discussed at the meetings. If desired, the Council can request a special focused discussion or presentation by StoreNext on a particular topic – StoreNext asks three weeks notice on the agenda to allow for reasonable preparation.

StoreNext will do everything possible so that this new group works for all of us. Again, our thanks and congratulations to the new Council.

To Your Success,

Tony
