Decommissioning: ISS45 Code Distribution System Host Site

POS-TECH-19:07

May 15, 2019

The ISS45 Code Distribution System (“CDS”) server host site will be decommissioned and no longer available after June 21, 2019.

This system has been available as an option to distribute CDS software release packages down to ISS45 store systems. Channel Partners overwhelmingly prefer to use their own distribution methods for these packages however, and the host service’s extremely low usage does not justify the cost of continued resources and support.

NCR will continue to provide patches and releases using CDS format. Only the distribution service is withdrawn with the host site being decommissioned.

Please reach out to Joe Mennella at NCR with any questions or concerns.
